Follow your path (Eclipses Sept 8 & 22 2022, 17 Feb & 3 Mar, Aug 13 & 28 2023) through July 2023

Eclipses draw attention to one area of our life and ask us to release on the other. This year is about following the bigger picture and not getting bogged down in the admin of life. As the new year comes around, there is a reminder of the personal work you are here to do, which is follow your own path, and letting go of the security you have from helping others. Eclipses in 2023 will hammer in this question, even though there may be moments where it is inevitable that people rely on you in this time.

Career (March 2022 - May 2024)

From February, the building phase of your career is going to be front and center. A lot of obstacles will come your way, but you're not afraid of that hard work. Up until then, the key is to lay out the foundation for this important time period, one that you won't have again in the same way, in this life time. Go slowly, since the Saturn transit rewards patience and the ability to say 'no.' Less is more. April 2023 will be a critical example of the work involved.
